SATURDAY, Sept. 11. The weekly statemen is beginning to make important demands upon this centre for currency to move the rops. The loss in lawful money, nearly all of it in legal tenders, is $7,347,000. That a large part of the money sent to the interior has been borrowed is indicated by an increase in the loans, which is only slightly in excess of the loss in cash. So far as the deposits are conother, and in consequence the surplus reserve is reduced nearly $7,500,000. That item, however, is large enough to meet the demands upon the banks for several weeks to come, pardoularly as higher rates of interest, which are plainly foreshadowed by the statement, and the outward movement of breadstuffs and of cotton, are certain to lower the rates for foreign shipments of gold from Europe to the United States. The point is made by some people that European bankers will not permit such a movement of specie. They, however, do not control the situation. They have influbut a rising market here, which London has followed reluctantly, has demonstrated that bankers and others who have endeavored to shape European opinion regarding American securities have been absolutely wrong in their views. The chances abandoned, and that as the earnings of our transportation industries continue to improve Europe will regret its sales of American securi-

There was naturally a good deal of profit taking at the end of the week, but it was not sufficient to impair the strength of the market. None of the net declines recorded was greater than might reasonably have been expected after the sharp advance of the last few days. The most important tr neactions were in the Granger stocks, and of that group Rock Island was the leader in respect to activity and the net advance recorded. The information comes from other sources that the number of laborers employed in this city and throughout the country is larger than for a long time past. The labor situation, how ever, is not entirely satisfactory, owing to the strike of anthracite coal miners in the Lehigh Valley district and the rejection by the bituminous coal miners of the proposition for a readjustment of their wages upon a higher scale than preva led before the present strike.

PRIVATE WEBB'S BRAVERY.

Medal of Honor for Gallant Conduct at the Second Battle of Bull Bun. James W. Webb, a member of Rankin Post No.

10, G. A. R., and a resident of Brooklyn, has received a letter from Secretary of War Alger notifying him that he is to receive a Congres sional medal of honor for "most distinguished gallantry in action." The medal will be forgallantry in action." The medal will be forwarded to Capt. Webb as soon as it is engraved. Secretary Alger in his letter makes this statement of Capt. Webb's gallantry:

"At second Buil Run, Aug. 30, 1863, this solder, then a private of Company F. Fifth New York Voluntarily carried to a field battery commander the information of the close proximity upon his flank and rear of an attacking column of the enemy, whose approach was before unknown. Apprised of his peril, the battery commander was enabled to salely retire his guns that otherwise would have been lost. In this service the soldier was severely wounded, but, being ordered to hospital by the surgeon, refused to go, and, while suffering from his wound, that would have warranted his absence, participated in the Maryland campaign and the battle of Antietam."

SLEUTH ROUNDSMAN GONE. Central Office Detectives Not to Be Tailed Up

The last of O'Brien, the ex-sleuth, vanished from Mulberry street yesterday, when Chief McCullagh transferred Sergeant Hermann Schlottman to the Second precinct to do desk duty. Schlottman, in Mulberry street, was one of the peculiar symptoms of the Conlin-O Brien regime. He was imported to watch the detecregime. He was imported to watch the detectives detailed to duty by O'Brien. He was a sort of sleuth-roundsman, whose business it was to go about town keeping tab on the detectives sent out from Headquarters. Capt McClusky his no need of such tell-tales, and he asked the thief to take Schlottman away. Accordingly he was freed from work which was probably as distasteful to him as to those he was set to watch. The barometer in the detective office promptly rose several inches.
